

Wrapped Profiles

Morland offers a broad range of decorative finishes on a variety of substrates, to deliver a sophisticated solution to achieving a co-ordinated fit-out.

For example, the same finish can be applied to MDF, aluminium and plastic to allow clients to combine substrates depending upon the application of the profile.

If the aim is simply no knots or warping then MDF is appropriate. Less weight can be achieved with poplar, obeche or plastic. Greater rigidity comes from aluminium, and polycarbonate is useful where heat resistance is a requirement.

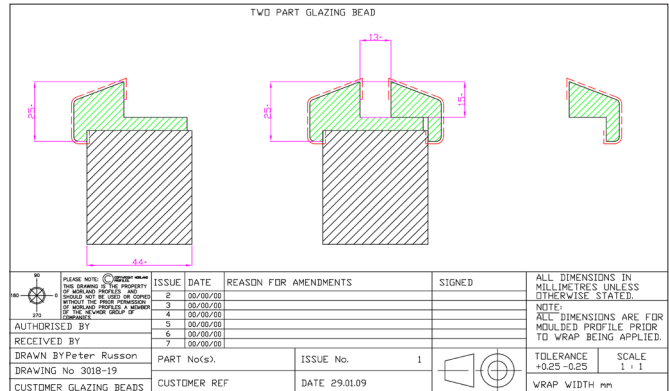

Not only can the substrate be selected according to the application, so can the nature of the decorative finish. From furniture grade paper foils to high gloss vinyls and real veneers the finish can be tailored to suit the purpose.

Morland has an extensive inventory of decorations that are available for small orders. For large volumes we can either hold stock on a free issue basis; or work with the nominated supplier, wherever they may be in the world; to align stock levels with production. We co-ordinate lead times from suppliers to ensure 100% order fulfilment.

This flexibility from one point of control enables a co-ordinated finish that can be fine tuned to suit differences in physical and environmental conditions.

CAD Drawings

Our technical department can take a rough sketch to produce a fully detailed CAD drawing for approval prior to manufacture. Once approved that drawing becomes integral to the manufacturing process and is embedded within the works order.

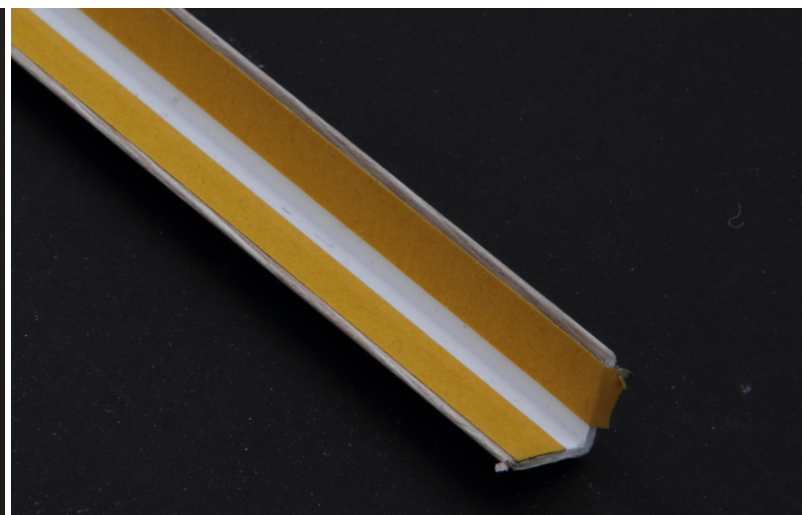

Profile Materials	Applications
Aluminium	Cornice & Skirting
MDF/ULDF	Door Framing
PVC/Polycarbonate	Shop Fitting
Poplar	Furniture

Our service does not just stop at profile wrapping. We can apply double sided tape to the profile for easy application. We can bag and apply a bar code. We can box and label parts to suit your manufacturing or assembly requirements.

Having a great menu to choose from is one thing. Delivering 100% complete and on time against such a large part count is another matter altogether.

A powerful M.R.P. system and an organisational structure that has staff dedicated to order fulfilment, ensures outstanding service levels.

We can provide a stock holding service to allow you to have orders delivered from stock on a next day basis.
